AAA Hydro Solutions, LLC

8952 Township Road 304
Millersburg, OH 44654
740-610-3349

Our purpose at AAA Hydro Solutions, LLC. Is to provide professional Redi-mix drum cleaning through safe and effective processes to achieve maximum efficiency for our customers. Product: Ready Jet G4 technology. This machine is a high-pressure water torpedo that goes inside a cement drum and breaks through the built up concrete on the inside of the drum walls. Using this machine reduces the risk of injury by removing the man in the drum. The Ready Jet can typically clean up to one yard of concrete in less than 75 minutes, allowing for less down time and keeping our trucks out on the road. Our machines allow your truck to carry a full cement load utilizing all the drum space.

Sysdyne Technologies

9 Riverbend Drive South #9D
Stamford, CT 06907
203-327-3649

Founded in 1976 in Stamford Connecticut, Sysdyne has been dedicated to serving the concrete industry for over 40 years, leading the industry in innovation. Sysdyne was one of the first in the US to develop computerized concrete batch control systems, the first to introduce Cloud technology to concrete batch & dispatch, and the first to provide paperless ticketing through our delivery management system.

Sysdyne is the only company in the industry with an interoperable, Cloud-Native product suite including CloudBatch batch controls, ConcreteGO® Cloud Dispatch, iStrada® delivery management, SysdyneBI business intelligence software, and iStradaView online collaboration platform.

These innovative tools were specially designed to provide ready mix producers with better, faster access to critical production and performance data, which transforms business processes by reducing costs, generating real-time insights, improving customer relations, and more.
